The new face of Elk Point FCSS

As the final hours ticked away before her retirement as Elk Point's FCSS Director, Deanna Easthope (right) gave a warm welcome to her successor, Alania Sanregret, who says the prospect of accomplishing all Easthope has done "is a little daunting."

New FCSS Director takes the helm

Review Staff

There's a new face behind the desk at the Elk Point FCSS Department.

Alania Sanregret may be new to FCSS, but she brings to the job a wealth of first-hand knowledge about a number of the agencies that fall under the scope of Human Services.

"I'll be good at referrals; I know all the agencies in the area," she says.

That's not surprising, considering that Sanregret's been a front-line worker in a group home for sexually exploited children, worked at the Dr. Margaret Savage Crisis Centre and been a supervisor at the Second Floor Women's Recovery Centre. At the Lakeland Centre for FASD (Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder), she served as the coordinator for adults with FASD.

Most recently, Sanregret was employed at the Dove Centre in Bonnyville, a vocational training centre for adults with developmental disabilities, where she developed an employment program, including a handbook and a policy and procedures manual, which she says may be eligible for funding under the federal government's Opportunities Fund.

The new director has a keen interest in the new provincial initiatives for a poverty reduction strategy, and hopes to see measures put in place to reduce domestic violence and homelessness as well, with "a real emphasis on prevention."

She has "lots of plans" for the future. "I want to get to know the town, and get them to know me."

Climb completed, it's time to hit the trail

It's not the way most people would celebrate the approach of their 67th birthday, but on March 22, three years and a few days after Morris Irvine received a double lung transplant, he joined 79 other participants who climbed 20 flights of stairs at the Coast Edmonton Plaza Hotel to raise funds for The Lung Association.

It was the Lindbergh resident's second time to make the climb as part of the annual Boardwalk Rental Communities Stair Climb for Clean Air, and like last year, he said, "It's my way of giving back" to one of the agencies which helped to give him a new lease on life.

This year's climb raised almost $40,000 for research into new cures and treatments for lung illnesses ranging from asthma to chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), the condition that destroyed Irvine's lungs to the point that a transplant was the only option.

The Lung Association also uses the funds toward support programs that assist out-of-town recipients who must stay in Edmonton before, during and after surgery.

That kind of support is a cause dear to Irvine's heart, and one of the reasons he and his family and friends are hard at work these days on plans for the Third Annual 2nd Chance Trail Ride, which will take to the Iron Horse Trail between Lindbergh and Heinsburg on Saturday, May 10, as a fundraiser for the GoodHearts Foundation, which provides assistance for organ transplant recipients. The other reason for the ride is to raise awareness of the ongoing need for donation of transplant organs to save other lives and to improve the quality of life for the recipients.

Last year, an estimated 200 people rode the trail on horses or in horse-drawn vehicles, and many more joined in for the evening festivities, raising a total of $55,000, enough to allow GoodHearts to make a third suite in a building across from the University of Alberta Hospital available to transplant patients at a very reasonable cost.

That daylong event starts with registration, coffee and muffins at the Lindbergh staging area, and participants have the option of pre-registering the previous evening in Heinsburg, where overnight camping is available near the historic Heinsburg Water Tower. Transportation from Heinsburg to Lindbergh will be available between 8:30 and 10:30 on Saturday morning so participants can deliver their trucks and trailers to Heinsburg after unloading their horses. Hitching rails are available.

The ride begins at 11 a.m., with a stop for a lunch at Middle Creek, and arrives in Heinsburg with plenty of time to cool down the horses and shine up your boots before the 5:30 p.m. supper, silent and live auctions, and dancing to a live band at the Heinsburg Community Hall.

For more information on the 2nd Chance Trail Ride, call Morris Irvine at (780) 724-4027.

FCSS Director

"I hope I can come half way to accomplishing what (Deanna Easthope and Maria Cueva) have done. It's a little daunting," Sanregret says, adding that, "Deanna will be staying with some of the things she's done for about a year."

"I do want to be involved with Victim Services," Sanregret adds. "That program makes a big difference.
The main thing I want to do is to bring in violence prevention initiatives for all ages; I've looked at programs that would be a good fit, like Roots of Empathy, that bring the community together." She would also like to see youth more involved in the community, and notes that there are activities that would earn them high school credits in the process.

With the arrival of the new director, Elk Point FCSS Department hours have increased, with the office now open 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Sanregret, her husband and two teenage sons recently moved to Elk Point and purchased the large house that was built in the town's early days by pioneer physician Dr. F. G. Miller.

This is the first time she has lived in the Elk Point area, but she has a good knowledge of the area through visits to her many family members, being the daughter of Rita Bartholomew, who grew up in the Ferguson Flats area.

When she's not hard at work, Sanregret says she enjoys making beaded jewelry and refinishing furniture, and with spring on the way, she is looking forward to beautifying the large yard around her new home, an especially exciting prospect after many years in rental accommodation.

Chamber welcomes new FCSS Director

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce had a slight upswing in attendance for their April meeting, where they welcomed new FCSS Director Alania Sanregret to the community with a round of introductions.

Sanregret's office is located in the Elk Point Visitor Information EcoCentre, so she was interested in hearing that completion of the outdoor-access washroom for Iron Horse Trail users and other visitors will be undertaken in the coming weeks. The chamber hopes that the solar tubes, which have been stored in the washroom area since the building was completed four years ago, will also be installed in the near future, and that shingles matching or close to matching those damaged by high winds will be tracked down and put in place before spring rains further damage the roof.

Chamber treasurer Geoff Hyslop outlined the chamber's financial picture for 2013, which he said was "not a bad year" financially, with a net income of just over $9,500, although the chamber has not been able to reduce the balance of their bank loan.

Former chamber member Jonny

Nielsen visited the chamber to promote the Third Annual 2nd Chance Trail Ride, slated for May 10, and said that one of the aims of the ride is to raise awareness of the need for Albertans to sign their organ donor card on the back of their Alberta Health Care card, because organs are always needed for a long list of transplant patients. "Sign the donor card," he pleaded. "I can't encourage you enough."

Also on a health care subject, Nielsen made the chamber aware of a potential problem at the Elk Point Healthcare Centre, which he says does not have the capability to have its x-ray equipment hooked up to the emergency generator for use during power outages, a situation which he feels could endanger lives, and should be remedied.

A replacement group has been found to serve up the Canada Day pancake breakfast, while the Servus Credit Union and chamber volunteers take a year off from their longtime commitment.

The Friends of Elk Point Library will take on the event, and would welcome the assistance of other volunteers to cook, serve and clean up. Another group has expressed interest in doing so, and will be contacted by the Friends.

Forts getting ready for 2014 season

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Opening day of the 2014 season at Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre is just a matter of weeks away, and Ross Stromberg, who is the program coordinator for both FGBH and Victoria Settlement historic site south of Smoky Lake, is busy getting ready for the May 15 opening.

"Blake Desjarlais and Bailey Oster are coming back," as interpreters at FGBH, he told the Friends of the Forts at their first meeting of 2014 in late March. However, at that point, he had not filled the other two positions, although he has had applications from people as far away as Ontario and BC and has been conducting interviews of prospective staff.

Stromberg also reported that he already had 14 school tour bookings at that time, "and all the Thursdays and Fridays in May and June are booked solid."

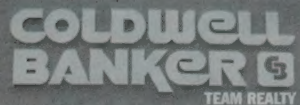

The ever-popular buffalo that is the subject of hunts by stick-horse-mounted youngsters brandishing paper spears as part of many of the school visits is getting a makeover, he reported, as the years and many hunts have not been too kind to the furry fellow.

With the Riverland Challenge no longer part of the calendar, the Forts and their Friends group are easing into the season with a much less hectic calendar. The Forts staff will host the Friends group and guests from the Elk Point Historical Society for their next meeting on May 14.

The first big event of the year will be the Second Annual Bears and Berries Festival on July 19, and with last year's success in mind, the Friends discussed tracking down teddy-bear-sized T-shirts that can be printed with a miniature version of the logo and sold to the 'parents' of the bears attending the event.

Planning is also underway for Rendezvous 222 on August 23, when the Forts celebrate the 222nd anniversary of their founding with a totally fur-trade style event reminiscent of the 1992 Bicentennial celebrations. The Friends are looking into the possibility of a short theatre presentation with a theme related to one of the forts' founders, as well as a visit from the black powder brigade, fiddle music and a display of Bicentennial memorabilia, as well as other attractions.

Capsule Comments

by Your Natural Choice Apple Drugs pharmacist, Chris Letawsky

- On their doctors' advice, many people take a baby Aspirin daily if they are at risk of heart attack or stroke. If you also take anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) like ibuprofen or naproxen, take your Aspirin at least one hour before the NSAID to avoid an interaction that will lower the Aspirin's ability to reduce heart attacks.
- Do you get CVS? That stands for Computer Vision Syndrome brought on by extended use of a computer. Symptoms include headaches, blurred vision, dry eyes and neck and shoulder pain. To avoid CVS, blink frequently, take your eyes off the screen and give them a rest every 20 minutes or so and ensure your text size isn't too small. And get up, stretch and walk around periodically.
- A recent government report comparing health statistics in 34 countries showed that Canada leads in the number of women dying of lung cancer. It's 47 per 100,000 women. The reason seems to be that women were slower to adopt a non-smoking status due to the "light" and "slim" cigarette promotions of the 60s and 70s. Today, only about 14% of Canadian women smoke. It's never too late to stop.
- Having said the above about women and smoking, women are more likely to reach the age of 100 than men. Currently, for every 100 females who reached the age of 100, there are only 21 male centenarians. In the developed countries, Japan has one of the highest number of centenarians.
- There are some drug interactions that are more serious than others. Our pharmacists will attempt to let you know those that could be serious so you will know how best to take your medications. You can count on us.

EDITORIAL

Are we there yet?

The forecast for this week is encouraging, but all of us are wondering about spring: are we there yet?

The geese and crows are back, and magpies have been observed making nests. Whether they know something we don't, or are just being optimistic, is a good question, and one they may not even know the answer to.

The weather is changeable to say the least, going from sun to snow flurries and back to sun with the speed of a two-year-old having a temper tantrum. Like the two-year-old, the year's weather will get over it and improve with time, but like the mothers of terrible twos, we all are wondering how long it will take.

Hang in there, and think about the May flowers!

WAY BACK WHEN...

1999

Elk Point hosted the OORP District Meeting, with 60 ladies coming from as far away as Edmonton and Galahad for a day of deliberations and sisterhood, and Past Honoured Royal Lady Lois Sharek named as the incoming District Deputy, succeeding Betty Lesshenko in that post.

2004

Elk Point Christian Community Church marked Palm Sunday with the reenactment of the arrival of Jesus in Jerusalem, Wayne Fiddler and Travis Houle leading a small donkey carrying a very small King of the Jews, Nolan Vogel, through a crowd of branch-waving believers.

2009

Priorities were needed for the best use of Municipal Sustainability Initiative (MSI) funding, with Mayor Parrish Tung noting, "We have to look at what will benefit the community in the long run" with replacement of cast iron water lines priority use for some of the funding. "Infrastructure is most important."

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

Recorders of current history

ELK POINT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Review Contributor

A year after the publication of the Elk Point Historical Society's Supplement to Reflections, society members voted unanimously to allow the name Elk Point Reflections be used by the publishers of a new weekly paper, an offshoot of Mannville Reflections, that the members felt would "record Elk Point's current history." The first issue of that publication hit the streets April 10, 1979, 35 years ago this week.

The fledgling paper covered local events, sports, organizations, RCMP briefs and town council, and soon expanded its coverage to include submissions from outlying districts.

The original Reflections office was in the back of the Credit Union (now Knotty Boyz Embroidering and Giftware), but within a few weeks, moved into a former accounting office in "the old Co-op building," most recently been home to Old Castle Antiques.

Notable news from those early issues included:

April 10 - Elk Point Midgets, coached by Del Smith, Steve Ference and Lloyd Metz, taking on Innisfree in the Three Rivers Hockey League finals, suffered a 10-3 loss, after Innisfree scored five goals in the third period. Mayor Mike Habiak and town council discussed the paving program, approved three building permits, and received a request from the chamber of commerce asking for help in developing a town theme.

May 15 - Construction began on Elk Point Truss plant, which would require 10 to 12 employees during construction and 20 once construction began. Thirty-seven students graduated at F. G. Miller High School, with Audrey Holliday as valedictorian and entertainment including the Wyatt Choirsters and Richard Jenkins. Artificial ice was slowly becoming a reality at the arena, with a call put out for volunteers to assist with the various stages of construction. The chamber of commerce established a committee that would meet with town council to "develop a common base of argument" regarding government proposals regarding "upgrading and changing the road system into and around Elk Point," with fear expressed that the highway could bypass Elk Point on the east or west side.

May 29 - Elk Point Chamber of Commerce announced Ron Onusko as the winner of the logo contest, his entry chosen for its simplicity of design and good representation of the 'Gateway to the Lakeland' theme. Mike and Mary Musijowski were the first customers through the door of the new Empress Family Restaurant, at its grand opening on May 26.

June 5 - Principal Laverne Wilson introduced 11 graduates at Heinsburg School, a class that included two sets of twins, Cindy and Wendy Bristow and Ruby and Robby Stanley, and had Darrell Younghans as its valedictorian. Nearly 90 people attended the annual Windsor Club steak fry, which included shuffleboard, field hockey and dancing.

June 19 - The Second Annual Canoe Pageant was a tremendous success, with an excellent parade before the crowd moved down to the river to view the incoming canoes coming down the river from Duvernay. A window decorating contest, pancake breakfast, Lions dunk tank, log sawing and nail pounding contests were all part of the day's fun.

June 26 - The chamber of commerce held their meeting at the Empress Dining Lounge for the first time, with Ed Buck reporting at that meeting that he county was in accord with the priorities of the chamber and town, and would like to see the highway to the salt plant taken over by the province, which was "not receptive to this plan at present." James Pinder won the Rate of Gain championship at the 4-H Achievement Day with a steer that gained 2.69 pounds per day.

July 24 - St. Michael's Catholic Parish celebrated its 50th anniversary, that church built in 1929 by both Catholic and non-Catholic volunteers.

First donation to Skate Park

Elk Point BPO Elks received the first matching donation toward the Skateboard Park project last Thursday, with ATB Financial staffers presenting a $2,000 cheque to Lawrence Pidluzny for the project. Left to right are Geoff Hyslop and Shawn Jensen of ATB, Pidluzny, and ATB staff members Lyndsey Pashulka, Faye Poitras, Brianne Greening and Janet Harasiuk. The Elks began the fundraising part of the project in January by depositing $10,000 into the Skateboard Park Account, and spread the word to other community groups, businesses, students, parents, relatives and friends that once a combined total of $10,000 has been donated by the community, the Elks will add a similar donation, and the community will be approached again. It is anticipated that the park may cost in the neighbourhood of $120,000 to complete. Anyone wishing to donate or to assist in any way with making the park a reality may contact Pidluzny at 780-724-4339, Lorne Young at 780-724-3542 or Geoff Hoyle at 780-724-3378.

MOMS LOVING FOOTBALL

"Bengal football has been an amazing experience for my son, Brad. The program accepted him as a young boy who had not grown into his body and turned him into a strong, in shape young man. Football has taught him what it means to be a leader and to be part of a team. It is an organization that leaves your child with a strong sense of belonging. St. Paul Football has not only given my son confidence as an athlete, but it has also enhanced his character and his self esteem. The sport itself may be entertaining and fun for the player but what the program does beyond the game is truly amazing!"

Susan Kotowich - Dubrule

"My son Jonathan has been playing football in St. Paul for the past two years, first as a Bengal and then as a Lion. The football club has had profound effects on this young man. His confidence level and self esteem have dramatically increased as a direct result of his involvement in this program. The support and encouragement of the coaches has been nothing less than phenomenal. I am grateful in their relentless efforts to help out not only my son, but other teenaged boys, develop character and integrity. Jonathan has set goals for himself and works hard towards achieving them. His sense of belonging has also been affected by being a member of the football team. When he started Regional last fall, he was welcomed by the older players on the team which really helped his transition into high school. Being a member of the football team has been so rewarding for my son. The coaches are excellent role models who encourage positive behavior both on and off the field. As a parent, I continue to be impressed with the organization and dedication of this club. I am fortunate that my son has found football as a positive way to spend his time."

Sharon Kotowich

"My son, Sam has been playing football in St. Paul since 2011. I was quite hesitant (scared) to let him play as football is a highly physical sport. Not knowing much about the sport only added to my hesitation.

Needless to say, 3 years later I am a complete convert. I see firsthand how Sam is developing and growing into a mature young man. The coaches, other players, as well as Sam's own drive, have nurtured a love and passion of football in my son.

The coaching staff made this an easy step-by-step process. Every aspect of football, from stretching to tackling, is done over methodically. The coaches do not want to see our children hurt anymore than we do. As well, the coaching staff expects the boys to push themselves to excel and are just as excited as the boys when they succeed in mastering a play or how to tackle properly. The coaches expect the boys to be respectful and are very willing to work with parents if school work is not being completed.

I've seen the changes in Sam as he has grown with the St. Paul Bengals. The camaraderie, teamwork and love of football are playing a huge part in making sure Sam turns into a well rounded young man. The teams are like an extended family and you can see the lifelong friendships the boys are developing.

I look forward to the upcoming football season as Sam starts his journey with the St. Paul Lions."

Sept. 4 – Town council held a public hearing on the height and placement of fences, especially those on corner lots, a bone of contention discussed at many council meetings.

Recently there has been a lot written in the paper about the native hockey players cracking the NHL in the early days. This past week, starting on Thursday and going on until Sunday, the Native Provincials were hosted in Edmonton and three of our local Elk Point Minor hockey players did extremely well playing there.

Brady "Oscar" Hymanyk won a provincial gold medal in the Senior Novice event. "Oscar" has a reputation for sniffing around the goal crease and picking up garbage goals, but the truth is, he's becoming a very smart sniper and positions himself for some very sweet goals. He played for the Edmonton Sled Dogs, scoring four goals and adding one assist for the weekend.

Lenae "Laser Beam" Peebles and her sister the "Amazing Grace" Peebles both played for the Pikani Snipers at the Atom level, winning the provincial silver. "Amazing Grace" had five assists and her sister "Laser Beam" scored two goals and added five assists.

Last week we told you about our local hockey player, Brodin "the Bull" Ference winning the AAA provincial banner in Calgary and how he and his team would be going on to the Westerns. Over in Kelowna this past weekend in the Bantam AAA Western finals, the "Bull" and his Lloydminster Heat team winning the games over Saskatchewan and Manitoba, making it all the way to the gold medal game against BC, —Did you hear that? Cheerily, cheer up, cheer up, cheerily, cheer up.

The first call of the quintessential spring bird heralds in the new season, the first of many birds to return from their southern migrations.

It's the sound of a robin returning home after a long winter.

The first call of the quintessential spring bird heralds in the new season, the first of many birds to return from their southern migrations.

Across Canada, birds are arriving in their northern habitats, many of which include the Nature Conservancy of Canada's protected lands.

In April, on Saskatchewan's prairies, the burrowing owl returns from its wintering grounds in the southern United States and Mexico. By late June and early July, owlets emerge from their nests. These tiny feathered creatures use the abandoned burrows of mammals, such as prairie dogs and badgers as shelter. In the summer of 2011, after a long absence, burrowing owls were confirmed to have returned to the conservancy's Old Man on His Back Natural Area; a victory of conservation for the Canadian organization.

As the same time, on one of their Ontario sites, Carden Alvar, another bird made its appearance. The eastern loggerhead shrike is one of the first birds to return to Canada each spring, migrating north in April from the Southern US. Carden Alvar's hawthorn trees are an attractive nesting area for the shrike, a species considered endangered in Ontario and Quebec.

Along the shore of the Atlantic, the endangered piping plover returns from its winter homes in the southern US and Caribbean. Nesting on sandy or gravelly beaches like those of the conservancy's Tabusintac Estuary in New Brunswick, plovers lay eggs in late April and early May. Volunteers from programs like Bird Studies Canada's Piping Plover Guardians work to protect plover nests from disturbance by humans and predators.

If you're unable to visit one of these sites, you still have the opportunity to hear the melodies of these migratory birds. The conservancy has included recordings of these spring-time sounds on their website, and encourages Canadians

Review Staff

Today's the day that avid Alberta walleye fishing enthusiasts have been waiting for. Entries are being accepted online or at license issuers from now until May 1 for walleye draws at a total of 16 Alberta lakes, including some additional lakes this year in the largest and smallest size slots.

Class A, where successful applicants are allowed to catch two walleye over 50 cm in length, now has six lakes in the lineup, with Wolf, Garner and Long Lakes added to last year's Pigeon, Battle and Newell Lakes.

Class B, with a maximum of three walleye between 43 and 50 cm in length, has decreased from 13 lakes to 12, with Baptiste Lake removed from the list, leaving Pigeon, Wolf, Garner Long, Pinehurst, Lac Ste. Anne, Lac La Nonne, Elinor, Whitefish, Iosegun, Smoke and Fawcett Lakes for anglers to harvest this year.

The largest lineup is in Class C, with a limit of three walleye under 43 cm, with six new lakes, Rolling Hills Reservoir, Garner Lake, Long Lake, Baptiste Lake, Elinor Lake and Whitefish Lake added to last year's list of Pigeon, Wolf, Newell, Lac Ste. Anne, Lac La Nonne, Battle, Iosegun, Smoke and Fawcett Lakes.

Some of the lakes also have had their harvest seasons extended to allow successful walleye draw applicants to make use of their tags, with those seasons now extending the length of the open angling season for these lakes, as listed in the 2014-15 sport fishing regulations, which are available from license issuers.

Only Alberta residents are eligible to apply for the draws.

Last year, a total of 1,416 of 2,680 entries were drawn in Class A, 4,068 of 5,223 applicants were successful in Class B and 699 applicants' names were drawn from 5,320 entries in Class C.

Hockey

That game was tied after regulation time, but unfortunately the "Bull's" team lost in double overtime. Talk about a heartbreaker. But how many kids can say they have a silver medal at the Bantam AAA Westerns as a keep-sake? Not many that I know of, that's for sure.

And so once again the final curtain is here. The hockey season is all but over for us Maple Leaf and Oilers fans, but like we say in Toronto, there's always next year! And at least I still have someone to cheer for. Our local NHL hero, Mark "the Marksman" Letestu scored a beautiful goal on Sunday against the Islanders helping his team, the Columbus Blue Jackets, who are still in contention and most likely will be playing in the playoffs. By the way, Mark's son Dylan is celebrating his birthday today!

And of course let's not forget the Blue Jays. Their season is just starting. Let's Play Ball! Which, by the way, reminds me, if you haven't already signed up for ball let's get on it! Tomorrow night is the last call for ball. Registration is at the elementary school from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. or you can call Dennell at 614-0789.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "I played everything. I played lacrosse, baseball, hockey, soccer, track and field. I was a big believer that you played hockey in the winter and when the season was over you hung up you skates and you played something else." Last week's answer to: "Hockey captures the essence of Canadian experience in the New World. In a land so inescapable and inhospitable cold, hockey is the chance of life, and an affirmation that despite the deathly chill of winter we are alive." - Stephen Leacock
